

“Peace of mind.” That is the phrase that first comes to us when we think of leaving our dogs with Dédé Harris, the “Pet Nanny.” As an airline family—pilot and flight attendant—we travel a lot! Consequently, we don’t want our dogs’ lives to be put on hold until we return. This has been our experience with some of the other dog care services, but not with Dédé.

Not only are we assured that their physical needs will be met, we are delighted to find that they are engaged socially. They get special walks, treats, toys, and plenty of affection. And yes, the right amount of structure. As cairn terriers, they need constructive boundaries! Dédé’s expertise with terriers is especially exceptional. And let’s face it; expertly handling the mischievous terrier breeds is a talent.

To sum it up, our dogs’ experience is somewhere between visiting grandma and “Dog Med.” We, wholeheartedly, recommend Dédé Harris, the “Pet Nanny.”
